"For the last nine months, our team, vendors, and partners have been working hard to bring the vision of HighDrate, the first CBD infused energy water, to market, and we have created an amazing product that will be the leader in this very new market sector," stated Robert Clark, CEO of Kona Gold Solutions, Inc. "We have encountered a few delays, but we expected delays would occur when bringing an all new product to market. Our web development team outdid themselves with our new HighDrate website that packs some exciting features, it is really easy to navigate, and just looks stunning!"

Clark continued, "Once we receive delivery of our HighDrate CBD waters, our team will promptly ship out all pre-orders to our customers. We will also be sending samples to all of our distributors and current retail customers to quickly lock in those deals prior to the end of the quarter."
