

Kona Gold Solutions, Inc. Hemp Ramps up Production on its Hemp Infused Energy Drinks to Meet Demand

Company's New HighDrate CBD Flavored Energy Waters to launch next month

Rockledge, FL September 27, 2017 (GLOBE NEWSWIRE) -- Kona Gold Solutions, Inc. (OTC Pink: KGKG), a hemp lifestyle brand of exclusivity and status, has announced they have ramped up production on its popular hemp infused energy drinks in order to meet customer demand. The Company will be producing another 1,000 cases of its hemp energy drinks to meet current demand in the short term and plan to ramp up production even further later this year as demand continues to increase and distributors sell through more product at faster rates.

On the heels of ramping up production of its hemp energy drinks, the Company is also producing an all-new CBD Flavored Energy Water, which is on track to launch in October. The Company has their team building out a new website and social media accounts for the HighDrate brand and will be launching those in the coming weeks where they will be taking preorders.

“As more customer orders flow through online, from our website and Amazon, and our distributors continue to gain momentum, we had to increase production of our hemp energy drinks to meet short term demand,” stated Robert Clark, CEO of Kona Gold Solutions, Inc. “The Company is also working on closing multiple distribution deals that will require us to scale production to new levels, which is a huge accomplishment and will bring the Company one step closer to national distribution.”

Clark continued, “Packaging and labels for our new CBD Flavored Energy Waters have been finalized and approved, and production is soon to begin. We anticipate the CBD waters to be available for purchase mid-October and we will be taking pre-orders in the next couple of weeks.”
